The Senators were a lively lot of ball players yesterday afternoon and simply walked away from the Cincinnatis, and because of the excellent support given Mc-James' superb pitching, the Red legs never washed bone base. The brilliant work of the Statesmen was in sharp contract to their stupid playing of the day

Wrigley was shifted to short field, and made the only error of the home team. made the only error of the same team, dropping a thrown ball by McGuire while covering second base. He had nade! Hoy, but the leather fell out of his hands after he had touched the runner.

Charley Reilly was back at third. He put up an errortem game, and hit safely two times, besides running the bases in steal second in the fifth Wrigley sent a Now one to McPhee, who fielded the bail Inster out the ball over Irwin's head, and de infielder came bone. McJames' work was the best be ho shown this senson on the home grounds. He put all his energy and cumuing into the me, and the banky porkeaters were completely at his mercy. Three singles in armany innings is all they could make. Besides his rine twirling he batted .500 per cent and three times assisted in putting batter out. He gave two passes first and hit Hor. in consequence of which Durants will be compelled to buy a pair of speciacles as be kept his son glassepocket, and that is where the In the zenith of his glory the voothre constituent of Pitchfork Tillman had the Old Roman to bandle his delivery, and Ma Outre was never in better form in a fielding way. He captured four fouls, two of which required some fast foot work and stendy eye. At the bat, however, he wa not so strong and let Ehret fool him with wide out curve.

The star of Selbach shone in brightn and the German's fielding was a feature of the game. In the sixth he seemed to have wings while going after Corroran's fly. getting the ball close to the score board and at another time he fore in toward the ond like Lydian raced through the ruck in the race for the Futurity Stakes, catching Burke's short fly in his usual style DeMontreville was the real hero, not slone because of his fielding, but because he would not tell a lie. Vaughn was on first by a sefe bit in the eighth, and Ehret hitto the Frenchman DeMontreville grabbed up the ball and made a desperate effort to touch the runner and then throw the bataman out at first. Nearly every one thought a double play had been executed, and the applause of the 1,500 spectators was dealening, but Lynch declared Vaughn safe. Capt. Brown came in and made a stiff protest. Lynch sald: "I'll leave it to De-Mont if he touched the runner," and he yelled out, "Gene, did you touch the man?" DeMontreville was bonest, and shook his bead. The situation was sublime, and it was a splendid exemplification of the fact that the umpire is the better man to graillying evidence of the honesty of ball player, and the more so that he a native of Washington. A moment later Lynch congratulated DeMontreville, and Tom Brown offered an apology.

Gettunn did not have an opportunity In the field, and at the bat everything he hit went into a pocket.

Fox did not play, and as Magnate Wagper has recalled Reilly's release, the chances are that the college student will do bench duly the remainder of the rea-son or be sent home, the latter being altogether probable, as young Leahy is here and can be used anywhere in a pinch.

The bitting of the bome team came in chunks. It was timely to a second, and in the fifth and seventh the bingling was to the tune of a two-step march winding up an evening dance. The hits seemed to ed Enret in the nature of a red flag be Talking about the trouble players cause an umpire, a crank says. "There are several grades of umpire tormentors in the game. There is the 'kidder,' who does not mean to be valgar or particularly offensive, but he seeks to be funny at the expense of the holder of the indicator. Then there is the 'in-and-outer,' who plays great ball today and tomorrow he is a dunce. He tries to cover up his poor work by turning the crowd upon the ampire. He is an ugly customer to handle, but the umpire understands his case and is on the lookout for him. There is always trouble over such a player. There is the earnest, hard working, conscientious player, who plays to win at every stage of the game. He wants everything that is coming to him and a little more if he can get it. His bieles are the most effective. Then there is the tough, vindictive, foul mouthed kicker, who has no regard for man, woman or beast, and cannot control himself under exciting circumstances. Fortunately, the latter class is not large, and the League would not suffer if an example should. be made of a few leading offenders."

THE SWIMMING TOURNEY

Contests at the Beach Will Take Place on Labor Day.

Great Interest in the Coming Event Among Natatorial Experts-A Favorable Tide Promised.

At a special meeting of the committee in charge held yesterday afternoon it was decided to hold the swimming tournament at the bathing beach on Monday, September 6. The selection of this date for the event is a happy one, as it is Labor Day a national boliday.

The postponement of the tournament from last week has not in the slightest abated the interest in that event by all lovers of aquatic sports. The prospec-tive entries in the eleven swimming and diving contests have been practicing faithfully at the beach every morning and afternoon and the result is that all events will be closely contested.

Mr Stephens, the chairman of the com mittee of arrangements, said yesterday that everything was ready and that the postponement was made only to wait for a more suitable title than could be had on the first day fixed upon.

On the day chosen there will be a good tide, and there will be nothing to detract from the interest in the event. The commit tee on prizes, of which Mr. Stevens is also chairman, has been very successful in ob taining contributions in medals and other prizes to be awarded the winners.

The greatest interest, however, seems to be centering in the "all-round" contest for the Hudson gold medal. This event will consist of four numbers, plain and fancy diving, a long-distance under-water event was won last season by Will Hudson, who will also enter the coming con-test. For the "emergency" contest Mr Fritz Reuter has offered a handsome and valuable gold medal, to be awarded to the winner. The distance will be seventy yards, and the contestants will be compelled to wear a fail suit of clothes, hat and shoes in-

In speaking of the medals offered for the open events, Mr. Stephens says they are all so handsome that the Winners of each contest will be given his choice. Besides the medals and prizes for the Winners, there will also be medals and prizes for the sec oad-place men, and perhaps for the thirdpince contestants.

The course will be between the two wharves at the two swimming basins, and will give plenty of space for the longest straightaway contests. Mr. Stephens, who is in charge of the arrangements at the beach, intends having the south floating bath removed on the day of the races, so that there will be no obstructions in the way.

The entries will close on Saturday even ing. September 4.

The events will be as follows: 50-yards straightaway-For boys under eixteen years of age. Prize, gold medal. 100-yards—Open. to residents of th District of Columbia. Prize, the Neumeyer gold medal. Plain diving-Prize, the Voigt gold medal. 100 vards: straight-Prize, gold medal. Fancy diving; five trials-Prize, gold 250 yards: straight-Walsh medal. Must e won twice to become the personal property of the winner. Under water diving-Prize, the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company gold medal. 500 yards straight breast stroke-Prize.

old medal, offered by G. E. Gerstenberg. 70 gards; clothes race-Prize, Fritz Reuter gold medal. All-round comest - The Times' gold medal. Consolation race—Open to all who have not won a prize in the preceding contests.

The arrangements committee will meet ngain on Friday, September 4, at 7:30 p m EAVES WILL MEET WRENN.

The American Champion in the Pink of Condition. Newport, R. I., Aug. 25.-Dr. Eaves, the famous British lawn tennis expert, won pionship here this morning, by beating his fellow-countryman, three straight sets in the final round by scores of 7-5, 6-3, 6-2. Enves' victory gives him he right to play the American champion. Bob Wrenn, for his title and the new chal-lenge cup offered this year. This challenge natch is scheduled for tomorrow morning The triumph or failure of the British team hangs on Eaves' victory or defeat.

The foreigners have won only three Important matches since they came o this country, while fents have been scored against them but if Eaves wins the American champion ship it would turn the whole disastrom series into comparative victory Wrenn is in the very pink of condition and those who have seen him in practice believe that he is playing the best tennis of his life. The betting here tonight varied from even to 10 to 9 on the American. A good deal of money will change hands tomorrow on the result.
